Class History

IN September of 1950 we began our life at Barnstable High School. It wasn't long before we settled down to our new routine. This was the year that the Student Council inaugurated a new traffic system, and the members of the girls basketball team brought home the Cape trophy. This year the Booster's Club was organized by interested townspeople. It proved a great help to both players and spectators in all our sports activities. Although not many school activities were open to us, a few of us played in the band and orchestra.

When we returned in the fall of 1951, we established the '56 Club. This club put on a Sadie Hawkins Dance, our first attempt at working together. Under the able direction of Coach Shields, our Red Raiders were undefeated this season. This year we took guidance tests to help us decide which course to take in our freshman year. We ended our Junior High School days with a class picnic at Craigville Beach.

At last we were full-fledged high school students! This year we began our chosen courses. We also took the Iowa Tests for the first time. Some of us became members of the traffic squad. Alison Hall and Carlton Crocker were chosen Ship's Belle and Ship's Buoy for our issue of the Clipper. Many of us were members of Junior Varsity teams.

After our summer vacation we began our Sophomore year by electing our class officers. They were: Carl Syriala, president; Edward McManus, vice president; Jane Alberghini, secretary; and Shirley Anderson, treasurer. Martha White and Dianne Horgan were chosen to represent our class in the Student Council. Mr. Smith, as our class advisor, helped us greatly in all of our activities.

Our football team was named the best on the Cape this year, and our basketball team became Cape Champions when they defeated Yarmouth at the Camp Edwards Arena. Sharing the honor of this victory were Robert Cross, Alan Ellis, Dudley Fernandes, Donald Manni, Bert McIntyre, and Carl Syriala.

In February we held our Sophomore Hop. Under the gay decorations of hearts and cupids we danced to the music of Victor Kreiton's orchestra. Carlton Crocker and Martha White were chosen the King and Queen of Hearts. We ended the year with a very successful cake sale at Buttner's.

We began our Junior year under the guidance of Miss Lahteine, who kindly agreed to help our class after Mr. Smith left the school. We elected Carl Syriala, president; Donald Manni, vice president; Jane Alberghini, secretary; and Joan Watts, treasurer. Martha White, Sally Baxter, and Carlton Crocker were elected as members of the Student Council. Our first concern this year was choosing our class rings. Finally, after much deliberation, our ring committee, with Anne Stevens, chairman, Dudley Fernandes, Pat Souza, and the class officers, limited the selection to two companies, from which we chose Balfour. We ordered the Standard school rings which had been designed by Brooks Kelley.

There were many new faces at school this year. First was Mr. Pendleton, who replaced Mr. Shields as coach of our football team. New classmates were Robin Barber, Donald Bankston, and Stephen Hulley.

This year Barnstable High School established a chapter of the National Honor Society. This has done much to raise the standard of the school and encourage students to improve their scholastic standing. Charter members from our class were Jane Alberghini, Ruth Hodge, Dianne Horgan, Edward McManus, Norman Nault, Margot O'Brien, Carl Syriala, and David Trimble.

At last spring came, and with it plans for the Prom. The dance was held on Friday, May 13. Chairmen of the various committees were Martha White, decorations; Parker Moore, refreshments; Anthony Zombas, advertising;

Ronald Perry, music; and Janet Rudden, tickets. The theme of the dance was Candyland Heaven, and the auditorium was gaily decorated with giant sundaes, gingerbread men and lollipops. Our president, Carl Syriala, crowned Sally Baxter Queen of the Prom. Judy Rivers and Eleanor Whitely were chosen as attendants. The music was furnished by Olivier.

As usual, basketball got off to a flying start, with many of our classmates on the varsity team. Both the boys' and girls' teams became Large School League Champions. At the banquet held by the Booster's Club in honor of the teams, Eileen Santry received the trophy for being the most valuable player on the girls' team.

In January our class took over the sale of candy in the cafeteria after school. It proved a very successful money-making project.

A number of our classmates helped bring home the Cape baseball championship by defeating Orleans in a thrilling game. Carl Syriala pitched with Carlton Crocker at short-stop and Donnie Manni at first base. Ronnie Normand and Dick Santos also played in this game.

The American Legion Auxiliary chose from the Junior Class Jane Alberghini and Ruth Hodge as delegates to the 1955 Girls' State. Our class elected Norman Nault and Carl Syriala to attend Boys' State at Amherst.

As the year drew to a close, Norman Nault was elected Editor-in-Chief of the Barnacle. Dianne Horgan was elected Chief Marshal of the traffic squad for the next year with Carlton Crocker, Ruth Hodge, and Edward McManus as Floor Marshals. Thus ended our Junior year.

Our last and busiest year finally began on September 20. The opening of school had been postponed for two weeks because of the polio epidemic on the Cape. Again leading our class were Carl Syriala, president; Donald Manni, vice president; Jane Alberghini, secretary; and Joan Watts, treasurer. Senior members of the Student Council were Carlton Crocker, president, Sally Baxter, Dianne Horgan, and Edward McManus. This year our football team showed fine spirit. Senior members of the varsity were Carlton Crocker and Donald Manni, co-captains, John Bearse, James Ellis, Dudley Fernandes, Ronald Normand, Dick Santos, and Carl Syriala. The class did a fine job selling refreshments at the games.

Class pictures were taken by Benrimo of Winchester, with Bob Cross supervising the taking of pictures for the yearbook.

One of the class money-making projects which proved to be much fun was the show "The Scandals of '56". This production was directed by Miss Nehubian and starred Mr. Rogean, who portrayed a teacher in the Rock and Roll Dramatic School. Many of our classmates were members of this elite school, and others demonstrated their abilities at the Charleston, the ballet, and other forms of entertainment. Mr. Connor brought down the house when he appeared as a lifeguard amidst the bathing beauties of the roaring '20s.

The Ways and Means Committee of the senior year consisted of Judie Butler, Carlton Crocker, Dianne Horgan, David Trimble, and Edward McManus.

Our boys' basketball team got off to a slow start, but managed to come through the Principals' Tournament with flying colors by defeating Chatham and Harwich to become Cape champions. Senior members of the squad were Edward McManus, Carl Syriala, Bert McIntyre, Bob Cross, Don Harkenrider, and Don Manni. Co-captains were Carl Syriala and Alan Ellis.

The girls' team had an exceptionally fine season with ten wins and two losses. Senior members of the squad were Barbara Short and Eileen Santry, co-captains, Margaret Phillips, Robin Barber, Margot O'Brien, Martha White, Ruth Hodge, Shirley Anderson, Dianne Horgan, Eleanor Whitely, Ann Shields, Judie Butler, and Anne Stevens. The managers were Sally Baxter and Pat Souza.

From the senior class this year, four boys were selected to attend meetings of the Rotary Club of Hyannis as Junior Rotarians. They were Carl Syriala, Donald Manni, Carlton Crocker, and Edward McManus.

Our peppy cheerleaders added much to the school spirit by supporting all sports activities. Head cheerleader was Pauline Souza, with Janet Rudden, Joan Watts, and Carol Soucy as other senior members of the squad.

The class elected Edward McManus to represent our School in Boston on Student Government Day. His job was to be State Librarian for the day. Ruth Hodge was elected to receive the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award this year.

The oratorical contest, sponsored by the American Legion, was won by Donald Bankston, whose subject was "The Constitution—A Barrier Against Tyranny." He also won first place in the contest at Bridgewater.

The senior class decided to present the play, "In 25 Words—Or Death". Mr. MacSwan kindly consented to direct our play.

Jackie Cayouette was elected chairman of the class banquet committee, and Bob Coleman was selected to take charge of class day activities.

As the end of our high school days draw to a close, we would like to express our deepest appreciation to the members of the faculty, underclassmen, and friends, and most of all to our parents. These people have helped us immeasurably throughout our high school years and we sincerely thank them.

Class Prophecy

FOR fun a group of us chipped in and consulted Madame Swami. We were anxious to know how her crystal ball would foretell the future of the Class of 1956.

First to appear were the Florence Nightingales.

We saw CAROL SOUZA wheeling the great Metropolitan Opera Star, JEAN SOUZA, into the operating room for a tonsillectomy. The nurse for the operation was ROWENA PHILLIPS. We peeked in at a meeting of the Massachusetts Nursing Supervisor's Association, who should be sitting at the table but JUDY RIVERS, Director at Children's Hospital, GEORGIANA MURPHY, from Massachusetts General Hospital, and FAITH DEFOREST, instructor at St. Luke's Hospital! The speakers were ANNE SHIELDS, Director of Nursing for Massachusetts, and MARGARET PHILLIPS, famous medical technician.

The crystal ball showed us scenes in Washington, D. C.

We were greatly surprised to see several members of the class in government offices. JOAN WATTS, Treasurer of the United States, was chatting with FAY O'LEARY FURNBERG as she stopped to pick up her son, who is a page boy in the Senate. Coming out of the Senate building with his secretary RUTH GILMAN, was NORMAND NAULT, Republican Senator from Massachusetts, along with Senator PARKER MOORE, Democrat from Massachusetts, who is quite prominent in the news because of his stand against Communism. We overheard Senator Nault telling Senator Moore that ED MCMANUS had been elected Governor of New York. While in Washington, we visited the Supreme Court. DONALD BANKSTON, the youngest judge in the Supreme Court, was leaving the building with ALISON HALL, court stenographer. Most surprising and thrilling was for us to see that PETER NILES had become the 37th President of the United States. We also heard that Peter had lowered a few limits, as he had promised.

Next the crystal ball switched us to the annual convention of the outstanding athletic personalities at Chicago. First to be introduced was DON MANNI, who had won the Light Weight Championship of the world for the third consecutive year. Next was JAMES "BUTCH" ELLIS, all star tackle for the Los Angeles Rams. "Butch" introduced his teammate CARLTON CROCKER who plays in the backfield for that great team. JACK CAYOUE, captain of the Olympic Archery Team, was called upon to present PAUL BOTELLO with a cup for bringing his hot rod in first at the Indianapolis Speedway. Two of the speakers at this convention were CARL SYRIALA and RON NORMAND, big league pitchers. Outstanding in the field of women's sports was ROBIN BARBER, who made a name for herself by becoming the first brownhead on the All-American Redhead team.

While still in Chicago, the crystal ball showed us Mid-Way Airport. Pilot BOB PERRY and hostess JUDIE BUTLER, were boarding a Constellation for New York City. Celebrities on the plane were BERT MCINTYRE, popular movie star, and his secretary PAULINE SOUZA; PETER BEARSE, Television performer; and SALLY BAXTER, private secretary for Marlon Brando. Alighting from an incoming plane was the United States Ambassador to Ireland, MARGOT JANE O'BRIEN. Helping DICK SANTOS, who had broken his leg during his famous clown act for Barnum & Bailey, were hostesses SANDRA HALL and ELEANOR WHITELEY. Leaving on a plane for her ranch in Arizona was LORETTA MCGANN.

Next, the crystal ball switched us to a tea being given by DIANNE HORGAN, a woman professor at Harvard University, for other prominent educators. Among those at the tea were RUTH HODGE, Dean of Women at Wellesley College, LORETTA HARMAN, Director of Education in Illinois, and MARGOT REID, Director of Special Education for Massachusetts. One topic of conversation was that

SHIRLEY ANDERSON, head of the Home Economics Department at the University of Massachusetts, was making one of JANE ALBERGHINI's famous dress creations. Also present at the tea were MARY ANN HARTWELL, leading religious educator, and ROSALIE GOMES who was at the tea to discuss the problem of social work in relation with education.

We were thrilled to hear that RONNIE PERRY, now conductor of the Boston Pop's Orchestra, had just given a concert at Symphony Hall. Among those in the orchestra from our class were, JOANNE ALLAIN, pianist, and RICHARD JENNY, trumpet player. Attending the opening performance were ELEANOR MEDEIROS, 5th Avenue hair stylist and LUCINDA MOORE, song lyrist. ANTHONY ZOMBAS, who now has an art exhibit in New York, was seen conversing with ROBERT NELSON, who took over the job of Francis (the comedian) on Milton Berle's Show. Also recognized during the intermission were ANNE STEVENS and SALLY STEARNS, who recently returned from a World Tour with their husbands. En route they met CAROL STEVER, who was on her way to visit ELSA CARLSON in Sweden.

Passing by MARCIA CHAMBER's Beauty Salon, we noticed that SANDRA LABELLE, manager of the Arthur Murray Dancing Studio, where incidentally CHARLES CHASE and REX ARNETT are two of the supervisors, entered the adjacent dress shop. The name over the door was MARY BROWN's Silhouette Shop. On the corner across the street we saw a new service station. The owners, DAVID JORDAN and JOHN BEARSE, were just leaving. Emerging from the bank next door was the head teller, FRANCIS FRAZIER, Francis stopped to talk to MARTIN HOXIE, who is a foreman for Campanella and Cardi.

Then Madame Swami's ball showed us Veteran's Day. There was a special parade by the Armed Forces. The general in charge of the Marine contingent was BOB BEARSE. Carrying the Marine flag was DONALD HARKENRIDER. DAVID MONTCALM was at the head of the Air Force Squadron. Leading the WAC's was Major SALLY WEBB. Captain EUGENE GUILD, of the Coast Guard, was honored by being allowed to carry the United States' flag at the head of the parade. Admiral PETER CHILDS of the Nautilus spoke on "How Atomic Power Has Brought Peace to the World".

Attending a meeting of the Retail Clothing Association were PETER CAMPBELL, head of Macy's Men's Department, JEAN MCCLUSKY, Manager of McLellan's, and CONNIE RYDER, buyer for Peck and Peck.

Then the crystal ball switched us back to the new B. H. S. Our first stop at the high school was at the office of Principal BARBARA SHORT. We noticed that EILEEN SANTRY, secretary at the school, was busy typing a memo to Principal BETTY JANE PYY of the Centerville Grammar School. We were shown Room 105 where PAT BASSETT took over for Miss Leconte as French Instructor. Visiting the school nurse, CECELIA AMADO, was ROSA LEE FORREST, the head dietitian at the Cape Cod Hospital. We were surprised and pleased to see PATRICIA SOUZA. Miss Souza was busy teaching one of her business classes. As we glanced into the gym we saw the basketball coaches CAROL SOUCY and ROBERT CROSS. Again we overheard a conversation, Carol was telling Robert that BARBARA SOLIZ had recently given birth to triplets. Bobby contributed his bit to the day's news by reporting that TED ASKEW struck oil again. This made his tenth strike. Last of all we visited Room 1 where JACQUELYN DUCHESNEY was busy teaching a class how to bake a cake.

During a visual tour of the big city we were delighted to observe the new businesses in Hyannis. "NANCY HAYDON's Original Dolls" was the first familiar name to catch our attention. Then we viewed the sign "EDWARD HEELEY, Real Estate Agent". We noted that both the WALTER LUTZ Service Station and the CHARLES SENTEIO Lubratorium were doing extremely well. Inside the Telephone Company building we saw operator JESSIE LANDERS report to Supervisor JANET RUDDEN. Then she left to eat lunch with RUTH SOUZA, Clerk for Cape and Vineyard. Further down the street another new building caught our eye. The sign on one door read "RICHARD THOMAS, Accountant". GAIL LORRETT was at the switchboard. On the other door the sign said "MAR-THA WHITE, Childrens' Books". We were told that the building had been erected by ROBERT THOMAS, the contractor.

We caught sight of Sergeant ANNE BEAUMONT, the first woman on the Barnstable Police Force, rushing to the crossroads by RUTH WASHINGTON's restaurant to investigate an accident. DAVID WYMAN, from Doane, Beal, and Ames, was at the scene to carry away the body. Nearby WILLIAM WOODBURY was working on one of the Cape and Vineyard's poles.

Then we noticed another sign. It read "TED CROSBY's Boat Shop". Ordering a yacht from this shop was ROBERT AITTANIEMI who heads a Wall Street stock firm. We sighted PAUL THALHAMMER's Express Company and LAWRENCE TOBEY's Landscape Service next.

We commanded a quick glance at London, England. There we beheld the great American Engineers DAVID TRIMBLE and ROBERT COLEMAN who had been called over to rebuild the Tower Bridge which was weakening. Entering CAROLYN FARQUHAR's Tea Shoppe to eat, they met JUDY WALKER, Secretary for Lloyd's of London. While the trio were talking, in walked STEVE HULLEY, who had returned to be a Master of Ceremonies on the British Television Network. Steve remarked that his first assignment is to M. C. a spectacular in which DUDLEY FERNANDES, the world famous ballet dancer, ROSEMARY SHAUGHNESSY, rising comedienne, and KATURA ROSARY, songstress, will perform. Steve also mentioned that JAMES RICHARD, art critic for the American Art Association will appear on a television show while attending a convention in London. Guess who is working behind the scenes at the T. V. studio—MARY MENDES.

After our visit with Madame Swami we left the tearoom. The four of us were very pleased with the future lives of all the members of the class of 1956.

National Honor Society

THE Honor Society passed successfully through its first full year at Barnstable High School. It was inaugurated last year and has continued under Mr. John J. Kilcoyne, the sponsor of this chapter.

On the twentieth of March, a few new members were initiated into the society to fill the vacancies left by members of the class of 1955. The Honor Society remains a select group of outstanding students at Barnstable, a goal for other students to work toward.

Key Club

THE Key Club, a junior branch of Kiwanis, was established this year at Barnstable High School. The Club is supervised by Kiwanis member Mr. Eugene Burman and faculty member Mr. Arnold H. Rogean, and is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Hyannis.

A small group of outstanding members of the student body were chosen to be in the Club. They elected the officers of the Club, who were: Norman Nault, president; Burt McIntyre, vice-president; Ronald Perry, treasurer; and Donald Bankston, secretary. The board of directors consisted of the four officers and David Trimble. The purpose of the Club is to raise and carry out projects for the improvement of the school.

The Clipper

THE Clipper again came out with three absorbing issues, and as usual they were a big success. Since the Clipper is the only periodical written in B.H.S., the Clipper Staff has endeavored to make all its issues as bright and interesting as possible. It did indeed achieve this goal.

This year, Miss Amelia Leconte served as the steadying hand behind the helm of the Clipper. She was aided by Art Director, Miss Bertha Giffels, and also by Miss M. Louise Hayden and Miss Barbara Days whose typing and business crews set up the articles.

Student Council

THIS year, members of the Student Council served as guides for the parents at the annual Open House, elected the marshals of the traffic squad, and supervised the voting at student elections.

Under the guidance of Mr. Henry C. Levinson, the Student Council is composed of four members from the senior class, three from the junior and two from the sophomore class.

Orchestra

MANY assemblies this year have been made more enjoyable by the excellent music supplied by the B.H.S. Orchestra. This group of musicians, which consisted of approximately twenty-three members under the direction of Mr. Simon Gesin, completed a fine season by playing at graduation.

An interesting trend toward the stringed instruments has been displayed in the orchestra, and in the near future the stringed section will balance those of the woodwind and brass.

Traffic Squad

EVERYONE who knows how crowded and congested the B.H.S. can be without the correct supervision, will readily appreciate work done by the Traffic Squad to improve matters.

With Mr. Henry Levinson, as faculty advisor, and Dianne Horgan as Chief Marshal, the Traffic Squad has almost eliminated the traffic problem. The only qualification required for a student to become a member of the Traffic Squad is that he be an honor student.

Barnstable High School Band

AS usual, the snappy and immaculate B.H.S. Band was a big success wherever it played.

Under the direction of Mr. Simon Gesin, the band wheeled out in colorful array at football games, arousing high spirits and great enthusiasm among the Barnstable rooters. The expert maneuvering of the Majorettes also added to the triumphant mood during our victorious games.

The Band played and marched in the Veterans Day and Memorial Day parades and welcomed Santa Claus from his helicopter ride.

Football

AFTER a promising start the Barnstable High School football squad suffered a delay due to the postponement of the opening of school.

The underdog "Red Raiders" finally took the field against New Bedford Vocational. In this game the "Raiders" demonstrated to the student body what spirit will do for a team. With a twenty-five man squad, they held the highly favored Vocational team to a 6-6 tie.

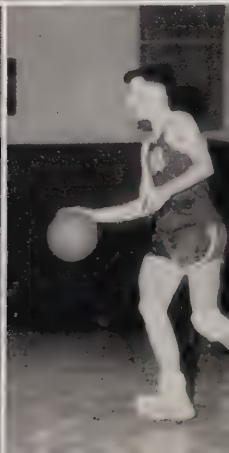

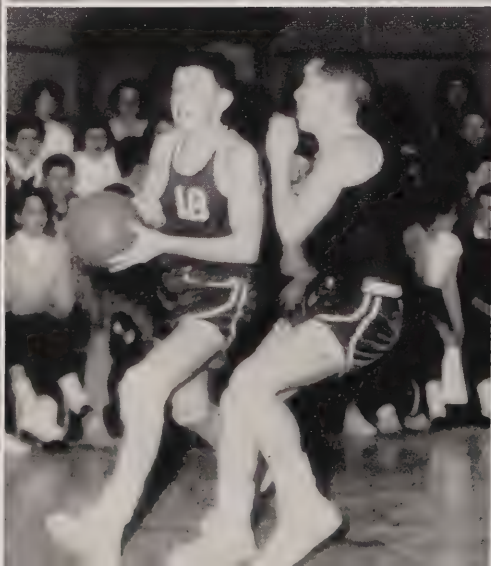

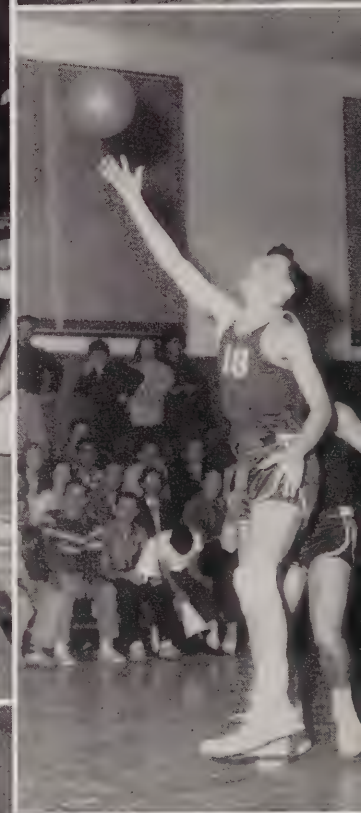

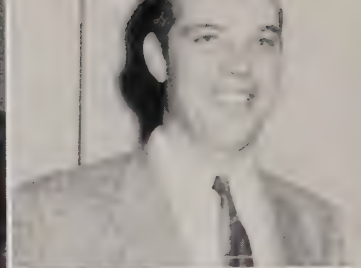

The spirited Barnstable squad then gained their first victory by handing Fairhaven a 14-0 defeat. The highly rated Wareham team barely kept its winning streak intact by nipping Barnstable, 7-0. Plymouth proved to be another testing ground for the "Raiders", as Barnstable won, 27-0.

Using Sergeant Field as a background, the "Raiders" defeated New Bedford High, 27-13. Next came the only team which was able to cope with the red hot "Raiders". Hingham stopped Barnstable to the tune of 25-0.

Coaches Pendleton and MacSwan handled the team superbly for the final game with Falmouth. Co-Captains Don Manni and Chauncy Crocker led the "Raiders" to a 20-0 defeat of Falmouth in the Turkey Day Classic.

At the annual Banquet, Donald Manni was awarded the "Hinkle Trophy". Carlton Crocker, James Ellis, and Richard Santos were awarded the Boosters' Club Trophies.

Success is elusive yet it comes to those who will never quit. Such was the fortune of our "Raiders" this year! Under the able direction of Coach "Fred" Maki and leadership of Co-Captains Carl Syriala and Allen Ellis our boys started slowly but gained momentum as the season progressed.

The Greater New Bedford teams proved to be stumbling blocks for the "Raiders" in January. However, with grueling practice sessions, the combine began to function smoothly and raced through the remainder of their league games undefeated with the exception of the Provincetown games. The "Red Raiders" fought hard and played well yet were unable to cope with the well drilled Provincetown machine.

The "Raiders" entered the Cape Cod Principal's Tournament with high hopes of success. Such determination could not go unrewarded! In a thrill packed game the "Raiders" edged Chatham in the semi-finals. They then went on to defeat Harwich in a decisive manner to become the "Champs" of the Principal's Tournament.

Senior members who contributed greatly to this great team effort were Bert McIntyre, Bob Cross, Don Harkenrider, Don Manni, Ed McManus, and Captain Carl Syriala. Congratulations to a great team.

Girls' Basketball

Under the capable and wonderful direction of our coach, Miss Nehubian, the Barnstable "Raiderettes" fought their way to a very successful season.

From the moment of the opening whistle against Bourne the Barnstable girls displayed their best sportsmanship and teamwork. Led by Co-Captains Barbara Short at forward and Eileen Santry at guard, the starting lineup also included Margaret Phillips and Robin Barber at forwards, Shirley Anderson and Ruth Hodge at guards. Margaret Phillips was high scorer in seven of the ten games and was certainly a great asset to the team.

The "Raiderettes" went all the way undefeated and the long awaited day came when they were to play the Yarmouth "Dolphins" for the Large School League Championship. It was a touch-and-go game all the way but the buzzer signalling the end of the game sounded at the wrong time and the "Raiderettes" lost by four points. It was a great disappointment, but they still managed to display very commendable sportsmanship by congratulating the Champs and just being sorry that it wasn't they.

Although they didn't literally win the championship, they are still Champs in our Book.

Cheerleaders

NOT to be forgotten are our Cheerleaders. Always to be remembered is the outstanding job they have done! With Miss Nehubian as their director this year, the Cheerleaders led by Pauline Souza attended every football and basketball game rain or shine, snow or sleet, to encourage our teams. They were certainly part of the cause for many of our victories. In their perky red and white Indian Maiden uniforms they displayed fine precision and teamwork during the catchy maneuvers while leading cheers.

The squad consisted of eight regular and three substitute members. Senior members of the Cheerleaders were Pauline Souza, Janet Rudden, Joan Watts, and Carol Soucy.

The Cheerleaders were honored as guests at the Booster's Club Banquet given for the football team and also at the Elk's Club Banquet.
